

MY MESSAGE FOR THE FUTURE. RACISM

Dear generations of the future I wanted to tell you that all people are equal and that we all need the same respect and rights for all people, I say this because right now where I am living in 2021 there is this kind of problem that people die because of the way they are for reasons other than what exists in normally in society and mostly because of their skin color.

Currently there is a black lives matter movement this movement began in the United States by the death of georgo floyd at the hands of a policeman in Minnesota minneapolis and from that came this movement that spread all over the world started all in May 2020 and in March 2021 the case was over and the policeman went to jail.

I talked about this case because it was for no reason his death and we don't have to get to that and I wanted to say that they fixed this problem in your years and that I hope that there was no such problem in the future, we are visualizing people to realize that there is in this world through social media.
