

social interaction

A Porsche is fun. But for a happy life, real friends and helpful neighbors are much more important. In 2018, many people feel lonely.

Successful apps 2018 are facebook and tinder. We have to think of more by 2030. How can you use the technology to connect people?

Imagine new apps. How do you want to live in 2030? How can people support each other? How can they spend free time together?
