self tracking 2030

Today smartwatches can measure the pulse, count the steps and measure the location with GPS. People want to optimize their lives and use smartwatches. What will these devices be able to do in 2030? How will we use these devices? Invent new devices or app. Which useful or useless applications are possible.