

Few days ago I went with my class and with my teacher to Pilichowo, where we visited ZWIK. There was a big and brick building from which the water is supplied to Polic, Tanowa and Trzebieży. There were also wells with dirty water. Those wells were connected with the building, where the water is filtered. In this place many experiments have been made. I saw there a lot of different machines. Their different using was interesting for me. I think that this presentation was fantastic. The guide described us everything in details and answered on our questions. We received mug for souvenir. I liked this trip very much. Now I know more about this place and this process of filtering water.
