

Adam Małysz

was born in 3 December 1977 in Wisła. Polish ski jumper, Olympic multi medalists, the most successful player in the history of the individual World Cup competitions in ski jumping, the best Polish athlete the first decade of the twenty-first century, currently rally driver.

In all 349 starts in the World Cup in the years 1995 to 2011 he won a total of 13 070 points, and 198 times was in the Top Ten.

One of the most successful ski jumpers of all time, Małysz's many accomplishments in the sport include:

- four individual Winter Olympic medals (2002 and 2010);
- four individual World Championship gold medals (an all-time record);
- four individual World Cup titles (all-time record shared with Matti Nykänen);
- 39 individual competition wins;
- a total of 96 podiums (individual and team);
- the only ski jumper to have won three consecutive World Cup titles (2001, 2002 and 2003).
- a winner of the Four Hills Tournament (2001)
- the only three-time winner of the Nordic Tournament (2001, 2003 and 2007).

After concluding his 16-year ski jumping career in 2011, Małysz competed in the Dakar Rally in 2012, 2013 and 2014. He started racing in off-road rallies. In April 2013 he won the first career victory as a rally driver.

Ola Andruszczak, class Vb