

Princess Margareta of Romania

Princess Margareta of Romania, now using the title Crown Princess Margareta of Romania, is the eldest daughter of former King Michael I of Romania and his wife Queen Anne.

Princess Margareta has four sisters and two brothers or children. She is married to Radu Duda. Her heir is her next sister, Princess Elena of Romania.

Princess Margareta found out about Romania from the stories of her father and grandmother, and from photos. She was each time impressed by the solemnity of the moment when the Queen broadcast her New Year's message to Romania on Radio Free Europe. The first thing she learned in Romania was the Lord's prayer, with King Michael used to recite to his daughter every night.

Princess Margareta likes films, reading, and photography. She is an animal lover, and is passionate about interior design and Italian cuisine. She likes swimming and in general prefers summer sports.

The Princess takes pleasure in beautiful things and in good music. She is happy when she is relaxed and especially when she is beside the people she loves.

She has also a good soul, helping a lot of people in need. She has a foundation called Princess Margareta where she helps a lot of people and children with food, toys and clothes.

Princess Margareta feels young and is just as active as she has always been. And this is how she is seen by all those who had had the occasion to know her.

