Promoting democracy through projects

“Becoming active citizens”

How can eTwinning projects promote democracy and make their participants become active citizens?

Among their core values already belong active participation, collaboration and intercultural communication. The learning event showed ways how active participation in the life of school and local communities could make a difference, how by taking concrete actions, helping others in volunteering activities pupils become open and socially responsible.

We dealt with current challenges, brainstormed for active citizenship ideas (school councils, volunteering), shared good practice and created a joint e-book of eTwinning activities supporting active citizenship.
