ISTITUTO DI ISTRUZIONE SUPERIORE “PERTINI – SANTONI” is a State Upper Secondary School located in Crotona, the province with the highest unemployment rate (32,2%) in Italy, along with continuous migrant landings. The Crotona area hosts the biggest Migrant Centre in Europe, consisting of a Welcome Centre for Immigrants and a Welcome Centre for asylum seekers.

It offers the following curricula:

ARTS HIGH SCHOOL (Architecture and Environment, Visual Arts)

TECHNICAL INSTITUTE:

A) DEPARTMENT OF TECHNOLOGY (Graphics and Communication, Construction, Environment and Territory)

B) DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMICS (Tourism)

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL – COMMERCIAL SERVICES DEPARTMENT (Business and Advertising).

The school hosts an evening course for adults who have not completed high school and a Provincial Centre for Adult Education (CPIA).

In the current academic year the school boasts a staff of 146 teachers. The total number of pupils is 955, of whom 300 are commuters from outlying towns, 31 SEN and 19 foreign students. There are also 39 amongst technicians, clerks and care-taking staff.

Furthermore, the school hosts a Services Centre, a Multifunctional Agency supporting all local area schools, a Territorial Support Centre (CTS) for new technologies in the area of special needs, and an Autism Centre where students with the Autism Spectrum disorders are welcomed.

The screenshot shows a Windows Internet Explorer browser window with the address bar displaying <http://www.radioactive.it/radio.html>. The main content area features a dark background with a woman wearing headphones on the right side. The text 'la Radio' is prominently displayed in a white serif font, with 'Web' underneath it. A progress bar with a red dot and the time '23:53:9' is visible. Below this, the text 'SEI CONNESSO' (You are connected) is shown next to a signal strength indicator and a speaker icon. A yellow bracket labeled 'download player' points to a row of software icons: Quick time, Video Lan, Real One, Win Amp, Windows M, iTunes, Firewall, and Universale.
