

ECONOMY

INTRODUCTION

- The Ljubljana region produces approximately 25% of the gross domestic product.
- The active population in 2003 was 62%.
- 64% of the workers belonged to the private sector.
- 36% of the workers belonged to the public sector.
- In 2008, the unemployment rate was 4.9%.
- The gross domestic product in 2007 was 24,600€.
- The industry is the most important economic sector of the city, especially pharmaceuticals and food.
- The public sector provides jobs in education, culture and health.
- The Ljubljana Stock Exchange purchased in 2008 by the Vienna Stock Exchange, hosts large Slovenian companies.
- In the city there are more than 15,000 companies, mostly focused on the tertiary sector.

