

Tapas Gymkhana

Tapas are a wide variety of appetizers, or snacks, typical of Spanish cuisine. They may be cold, (such as mixed olives and cheese) or hot (such as chopitos, which are fried baby squids). In select bars in Spain, tapas have evolved into an entire, and sometimes sophisticated, cuisine. You can order and combine different tapas to make a full meal.

The serving of tapas is designed to encourage conversation because people are not so focused upon eating an entire meal that is set before them.

People usually go out to eat tapas in groups of friends visiting different bars. It is more traditional to stand on foot at the bar counter enjoying tapas and chatting around a glass of beer or wine instead of sitting at the table.

Don't miss an opportunity of having a good time and trying traditional Spanish food!
