Therapeutic fairy tale, 2nd part

“Where the rainbow starts and ends”

The turtle put the bag on Teddy's shoulder and wished him luck. Teddy crossed the Black Sea and arrived to Turkey, where he found a group of people who were very sad.

TEDDY AND BERNY

He approached a girl and asked her: where are you coming from? Where are you going? The girl replied: we came from Syria, we fled the war and we don't know where to go.

Our houses are destroyed. We are hungry and very afraid. Teddy decided to stay a few days with them.

TEDDY

The blue cloud of sadness enveloped the camp and the teddy bag weighed more and more.

TEDDY

The girl had a little mouse in a box that she brought from home and at night she took it out to play and made everyone laugh

While they laughed they forgot the sadness and the bag seemed to weigh a little less. The child said: take, I'm giving it to you to help you.

Then they shared the weight between the two and the bag weighed half.

Teddy and Berny, that's the name of the little mouse, went to look for more people to help, but also more people to help distribute that heavy bag.
