

PORTUGAL

It is a little country located in the southwest of Europe, next to Spain. There are a lot of people living in Portugal, about ten millions; so in spite of the fact that it is not too big, size, there are lots of people.

On the one hand, Portugal has an incredible gastronomy with recipes like “Bacalao Dorado” and “Caldo Verde”; both dishes are delicious!

On the other hand, sports are really popular in there. Obviously, everybody in the world knows Cristiano Ronaldo, but there are amazing players playing indoor football too, like Ricardinho, who is considered the best indoor football player ever.

To sum up, from my point of view, Portugal is really interesting and beautiful, so I would like to visit it in the future to know more about it.
