

Some weird/special facts about Germany

Germany is quite a special place and you might already know some interesting facts about it – like the Autobahn without any speed limit or that we like eating a lot of bread and drinking beer (in fact: there are over 5000 types of beer and over 300 bread varieties).

But did you know that there's a law specifically stating that if you die on a business trip, the trip is over? Or that everything is closed on Sundays? And do you know what is really cool and might be my favourite fact? The Chancellor, Angela Merkel, has her own Barbie doll!

As you can see, there is quite much to discover about Germany – and these are just some crazy facts!

Some beer and bread (picture taken from RitaE, pixabay.de)