

A Different Ending of the Story CHRYSANTHEMUM

In the morning, when her grandmother came into her room to open the window, Chrysanthemum was not sleeping. She thought about school. Chrysanthemum was really unhappy at school. Grandfather smiled at her and said that she was the most beautiful!

In the classroom Victoria and Rita were waiting for her. They pushed her to her desk, but then the teacher came in. Next to the teacher there was a boy. The teacher introduced a new pupil to the class saying his name- Dahlia Pinnata. Victoria nearly fell down from the chair – named after a flower! The teacher told the boy to sit down where he wanted and he sat next to Chrysanthemum as there was an empty chair.

Silence was in the classroom.

During the break the boy was surrounded by the classmates. He looked friendly. His manners were nice. He knew a lot about different gadgets but he didn't have Instagram , he didn't bring his phone to school, he played computer games and watched Tik Tok through for very short time on Saturdays only. He said he liked Chrysanthemum's name – his sister's name was Chrysanthemum. In his family all the relatives were named after flowers!

Victoria, Rita, Jo and the children liked Dahlia Pinnata and were a little jealous that he sat next to Chrysanthemum. They forgot to tease her! It appeared that she knew a lot about nature and she could tell interesting stories in the science lessons.

The class became friendlier. Maybe it was their teacher's wisdom to bring this boy to the class. The boy remained with them for a month ( His parents went on a secret mission to Africa or elsewhere and they asked Mrs. Chud, their relative, to take care of him)

The school was a nice place for Chrysanthemum now.

Migle