After videos students discussed about situations, talked what did they see, how did they understand the scene. And what will they do differently. After the discussion the teacher divided students into small groups and gave them questions to answer. Did they face bullying? When was it the last time? How did they feel and react?

Trying to answer these questions pupils tried to be creative, and visualise bullying on the paper. They did some kind of posters. At the end of the lesson they presented it to the class and shared their own experience about bullying.
