OUR NETIQUETTE ON THE TWinspace:

On the TwinSpace, it is important to respect others.

We must be polite to everyone even if we don't know each other.

On the TwinSpace it is important to listen to everyone's ideas and suggestions to improve collaboration between schools.

We must collaborate and communicate together!

OUR MOBILITY CHARTER:

In our journey we must listen to all the teachers, stay in line, be aware of danger so we must be focused and wise. We mustn't get away from our group.

When travelling by boat we mustn't run everywhere and if we travel by plane we mustn't get up and should be quiet. We must sit at our right seat number and we must be quiet because it wouldn't be respectful and it could disturb the other passengers.

During the mobility, we will have to be very kind to the people who will welcome us. In our host family we should help them with household chores. We must help our host family cleaning or cooking and some other stuff. In host families we must make efforts with, for example, food.

When we are on the other country, we shouldn't speak French because it could be impolite. When you are invited to a country you have to respect the others and help them to understand our language and to understand their language.

During school trips I must not disperse I would not go anywhere; we have to listen and concentrate and we must be polite.

What I would do in museums is be good, respect people and make friends and take notes and take pictures of the works in the museum. So, I can show what I saw at the museum.

When we visit the museum, we must not separate from the teachers. During a visit to the museum or others you should not be excited and speak loudly.

When collaborating, must respect people who welcome us kindly, and we must talk to each other to share our opinions about our project. We must be careful during school excursions because it is very important to have a successful project that's why we mustn't chat, disperse and we must listen to the teachers because we must be respectful with them.
