

The island receives traditionally the native Galician names of illa of Louxo or illa gives Toxa Grande; the latter toponym became set to separate the name of this island from that of the Island of The Toja Pequeña illa gives Toxa Pequena, which places to approximately hundred meters to east of the Toja Grande. Only very recently one began to use the form To Toxa without the Big modifier. Needed appointment Nevertheless, illa of Louxo it is the name that one sees earlier in the ancient documentation, needed appointment and the only one used even does little for the native ones of the villa of The Grove.
