

Water as an element in the love poetry of Elisaveta Bagryana

Water as salvation

The image of water as an element
- it washes, it purifies, it bears the symbol of renewal, it connects with spring, with the renewing new beginning and with this new beginning destroys the foundations of tradition.

"Низ просторните пясъци край морето стъпките останаха отпечатани. – А може би в привечерната позлата, и днес бродят нашите два силуета.

"Through the spacious sands by the sea the steps remained imprinted. -

And maybe in the evening gilding, and today our two silhouettes roam

-symbol of the natural element,
of rebellion;
creation,
punishment and purification.
