

THE THEME OF WATER IN „LIVING WATER“

a fairy tale

BY: RAN BOSILEK

SUMMARY

- Once upon a time there was a king with three sons. When the old king told them that whoever brought hi living water to rejuvenate, he would become king. The brothers left, the youngest brother went through many obstacles until he reached the precious palace where there was living water, where there was an unseen beauty who gave him a ring of desire and told him to take some of the living water. The eldest, realizing that his brother had a ring of the desires, took it and wished the living water to come into his hands and his brother to return on the road.

- And so it happened. The big brother gave the living water to his father and became king. He put the ring on his hand and wished the beauty from the palace to come to him. Just at that time the little brother reached the precious palace and realized that the beauty was his brother`s captive. There was a raven who landed on his shoulder and told him that he would help him, went to the kingdom and took the ring and returned it to his good brother. Then he wished to return to the kingdom. So he became king and married the beauty, and his bad brother told him to work for his family and so he would be forgiven.

QUOTE:

- Умие ли се някой от тая вода – ако е млад не остарява, ако е стар ще подмладее, ако е болен ще оздравее.
- If anyone washes himself of this water- if he is young, he does not grow old, he will rejuvenate. If he is sick – he will recover.

WHAT THE TITLE IN THE WORK SYMBOLIZES?

- Only worthy people can possess living water.
The best, most of kind-hearted brother deserves water with his good deeds.

WHAT DOES WATER SYMBOLIZE ?

Water symbolizes youth, eternal life and this is what people have been striving for for centuries.

The background is a dark blue gradient. In the corners, there are decorative white and light blue circuit-like patterns consisting of lines and small circles, resembling a PCB or a network diagram.
