

water and L I T E R A T U R E

Erasmus+

Carla Curto Lapuerta
Wiam Talsi
Berta Cabrera Navarro
Xavi Barrios Flores

3r B

...makes you money
...you will do it, and
...you will do it every
...day of the week.
...and the budget...

index

Introduction.	page 3
narrative 1	page 4
narrative 2	page 5
narrative 3	page 6
narrative 4	page 7
conclusion	page 8

Introduction

narrative 1

What happened in the lagoon?

"Todo era triste, no había hojas, ni plantas alrededor de la laguna. Ya el aire y el agua no eran los mismos debido a la contaminación."

"All was sad, there were no leaves, no plants around the lagoon. The air and the water weren't the same thanks to the contamination."

narrative 2

The fantastic world of water

"Las nubes ya se han ido y el Rey Sol ha atravesado con sus rayos las transparentes lágrimas de alguna traviesa nube que se ha quedado arriba, dejando así aparecer al presumido Arco Iris con su vestido de siete colores."

"The clouds have already left and the Sun King has crossed with his lightning the tears of the clouds that have stayed up, thus letting appear the smug rainbow dressed in his seven colors."

narrative 3

THE TEACHINGS OF THE GOD OF RAIN

"But the elephant wanted to challenge him and began to uproot all the trees, shrubs and grass with his trunk, to destroy everything green on earth. The God of Rain, offended, caused the rain to stop, and deserts spread everywhere."

"Pero el elefante quería desafiarlo y comenzó a arrancar todos los árboles, los arbustos y la hierba con su trompa, para destruir todo lo verde de la tierra. Así pues, el Dios de la Lluvia, ofendido, hizo que cesara la lluvia y los desiertos se extendieron por todas partes."

Author: Magdalena, de Salamanca

narrative 4

THE DROP THAT WANTED TO BE DIFFERENT

"Había una vez, una gota, que estaba aburrida y cansada de hacer siempre lo mismo. Cada día, cuando el sol más brillaba, la gota subía en forma de vapor de agua hacia su amiga Nubi y allí, junto a sus miles de amigas, esperaba a que bajaran las temperaturas para volver a descender a un río o de nuevo al mar."

"Once upon a time, a drop, I was bored and tired of always doing the same thing. Every day, when the sun shone brightest, the drop rose in the form of water vapor towards his friend Nubi and there, along with him thousands of friends, he waited for the temperatures to drop to go back down to a river or return to the Sea."

Author: Alejandra Ferrero Barros

conclusion

It was an amazing project!

hope u like it!