“Every child is special”

Our Journey to Czech Republic

We start our Journey to Czech Republic with the help of our kite, a kite that is travelling all over the world. This time, our kite flew to Czech Republic.

Because of a carnival project that was running those days we presented to the children a collection of various costumes including traditional costumes like Greek, Scottish, Spanish and of course Czech.

The children wondered why we put the Greek traditional costume in this collection.

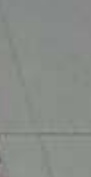

After a discussion we decided to classify the costumes to carnival and traditional.

ADAPTIVE STYLES

Then we tried to identify the country the costumes belong to.

Most of the children recognized the Greek traditional costume, some of them the Scottish and Spanish but no one the Czech girl-costume.

We wondered where the girl with the unknown costume came from...and finally we found out that she came from Czech Republic!!

But ...Where was the Czech Republic?
First, we looked at the map and the globe to find the country.

We matched the costumes to the countries they belong to and we found that all of us belong to Europe

The next day nobody could remember the name of the country we met the day before.

A paper doll named Aniska, called Anka, visited us. She was very sorry because nobody remember anything about her country. Then, she began to talk to us about it.

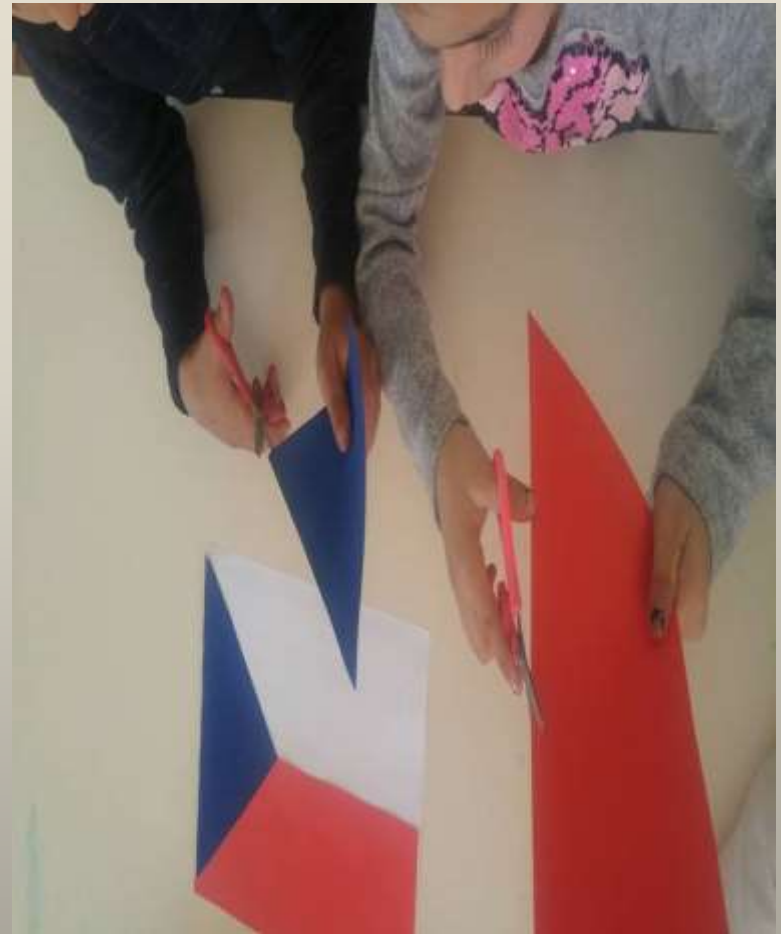

First, we saw all the European flags and we drew them

Also we created a European poster

After that, we created the Czech flag

Anka showed us a small film about Czech.

Also she told us about the most important monuments, as the “Watch”.

We met the great painter Alfons Mucha and we reconstructed his paintings.

Anka became one of our best friends

In the end, we played a traditional game from Czech

Every child has a number. One child goes out so he or she can't hear the numbers and who they belong to. When he or she comes back somebody says a number and the child who has it must say "KOUKOU". The child who was out must recognize the child from his or her voice.

Thanks for watching
