- Having an opportunity of intercultural communication.
- by means of this project we can introduce our country, teaching methods and also meet with new cultures and new methodologies
- We became aware of many things: different cultures, ict and web2 tools, sharing, pairwork and groupwork
- It taught us collaborate each other efficiently and use language and ict tool more enjoyably.
- Working in a multicultural environment!
- Coding is important in this time.Although I am an English teacher, It is interesting for me and my students how to learn code. Besides coding, they learnt new Web 2.0 tools and it is enjoyable for them to use them and create new things.
- to learn how to collaborate with partners efficiently
- It gave new materials to improve the content of the subject
- This project has helped me to show my students different cultures and realities while offering them the tools needed to develop an autonomous learning and to be able to exchange information using English as a tool of communication
- Use of cooperative learning in class
