

VYTAUTAS V. LANDSBERGIS

Vytautas V. Landsbergis is one of Lithuania's leading authors of children's books in addition to being a screenplay author and film and theatre director.

V. V. Landsbergis

was born in Vilnius in 1962. and studied philology in his native town as well as directing in Tbilisi, Georgia.

He founded a production company and has since made over twenty documentaries and fictional dramas.

Vytautas V. Landsbergis is most well known for his writings for children.

He has published – to great acclaim – prose, poetry and plays, which he has adapted for the stage in Lithuania.

His books are not simply entertaining, humorous, adventure stories, but the author also tries to impart eternal values to the young generation – love, mercy, social responsibility, and the desire to develop individual personality.

Landsbergis belongs to a generation of young writers from the Baltic states who are confident enough of a child's intellectual ability to adopt an experimental method of narration rather than a teacherly stance.

Books' universal spirit is the reason why people of all ages enjoy these books.

Vytautas V. Landsbergis's is nominated to Astrid
Lindgren Memorial Award
(2008).

Astrid
Lindgren
Memorial Award

Outstanding artists illustrate the author's books, and they are currently being translated into other languages. They are also presented in international book fairs.

Additionally, Vytautas V. Landsbergis records most of his books onto compact discs, combining the stories with songs. He and other Lithuanian directors have presented many performances for children based on those records.

The Love of Dominic the Horse

The Love of Dominic the Horse

is probably the most famous book by the children's author V. V. Landsbergis both in Lithuania and abroad. This philosophical allegory tells about playful love between a white horse and a blue cornflower, their painful separation in autumn and her unexpected resurrection in spring. It is a universal tale about eternal love favoured by children and grown-ups alike.

In 2004, it was elected the book of the year in Lithuania.

Tales of the Little Brownnoser

The volume of short stories »Rudnosiuko istorijos« was named best Lithuanian children's book of the year
in 1995

APPLE TALES

In his volume of short stories »Obuolių Pasakos« Landsbergis presents a curious and bizarre fairytale spun around two friends who are apples, Anton and Peter, who embark on a journey across time, starting with Adam and Eve, across the Middle Ages until Armageddon.

OTHER BOOKS

ANGELS' TALES

LITTLE MOUSE ZITA

LAZYBONES' FAIRY-TALES

OTHER BOOKS

EGG FAIRY-TALES

MOOSE EUGENE

JULIA'S DREAMS

Links

<https://www.pakartot.lt/album/obuoliu-pasakos>

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=oVm22LOXPL8>

<http://www.vvl.lt/lt>