

LESSON SCENARIO

Subject	Information Technology /IT/
Topic	Basic rules, phases and activities for project development
Objective	Students should: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• determine what is a project;</li> <li>• to know and to be able to apply the technological resources for its implementation</li> <li>• to seek information (including on the school website) for different projects;</li> <li>• realization of a project in a group or team, using the Internet and various media of information;</li> <li>• Copies an object from one application to another;</li> <li>• respects copyright of the information used;</li> <li>• explains the nature of the licensing agreements Creative Commons and GPL indications associated with author</li> </ul>
Age group	13-14 7th grade
Time required	3x40 min
Methods	Practical work Work in team
Materials	Computers software for the final product of the group: MS Office, Online tools, Web platform, school site Forms: Schedule of activities; Project Plan; Interviews / created in Word /
Activities	With the help of the teacher, the pupils are divided into 4 or 5 teams. All the stages for the successful project are discussed . Task: Search for information on various projects, including in the school and discussing the activities of these projects by each group. Task: Discuss a problem in the group and formulate a topic Task: Allocation of responsibilities / with the help of the teacher / according to the interests and competencies of each member of the group. Task: Work on the different stages of the project Task: Making a final product Task: Presentation of the product and the results of the project Task: Presentation of the product and its results to class and teachers.
Differentiation	Group work and differentiation and self-differentiation
Assessment, evaluation	The evaluation of the projects is in several stages: Assessment of work in class Assessment of work outside the classroom - studies, interviews, team meeting; Assessment of presentation skills; Applicability of project ideas.

Part of the ideas developed:

"We want a change in the education system" - a theme provoked by the transnational meetings on the Erasmus projects

"We want pure nature" - a project for a long-distance beach cleaning campaign on the Black Sea

"Cultural Heritage of Bulgaria"

-project for raising funds for the preservation of cultural monuments in Bulgaria