

INSPIRING PEOPLE AROUND ME

The person who inspires me the most in my environment is my grandmother. She, at almost ninety years of age, has incredible vitality, the desire with which she gets up every day is admirable. She is the one who gives me the best advice and help, and I don't know how she does it, but she knows everything!

Perhaps for many people this is not enough reason to admire a person, but for me it is an example to follow.