

Inspiring people around me

The person who inspires me the most is my close friend Sadeh. She's the same age as me and she's one of the reasons why i'm a better person and she keeps me motivated at all times. She listens to me whenever i want to have a talk and she gives the best advices. She always checks on me, and she's very kind, funny and nice to me all the time. I'm so grateful that i have a friend like her and she inspires me to be a better person, feel more positive and be kind. We have a lot in common and we share a lot of hobbies so we get along very well. She lives far away from me but we talk through social media platforms, tough i would love to meet with her in real life some day. I'm lucky to have her as a friend and i'll always be grateful. She may not done big accomplishments but she makes me a better person.
