

Once there was a boy called Jack who lived with his mum in a small cottage. There only possiension was a cow who was to old to prodce milk.

So one day Jack's Mum decide to sell the cow and make sure Jack get's a good price from the market then he was stop by a mysterious man and gave Jack a bean. Jack's Mum was FURIOUS! and managed to throw the bean outside.

When Jack woke up he saw a gigant beanstalk he jumped out of bed and climbed and then saw a gigant masive castle.

Then Jack knock on the door as loud as he could and the door creeeted open and Jack went in he was going to sink his teeth in bread.

A gigant stomped into the room with a hein, sack of coins and a Harp but the harp shattered Master Master and the Gigant ran after Jack down the beanstalk.

Jack got an ax and choped the beanstalk down and the gigant felt dead.

Once upon a time lived a widow and her scruffy son Jack they were very poor. All they had was a cow which was too old to produce milk.

So one day Jack's Mum said "Take our only cow and sell it for a good price not cheap but a good price." And as quick as a flash Jack searched in the market.

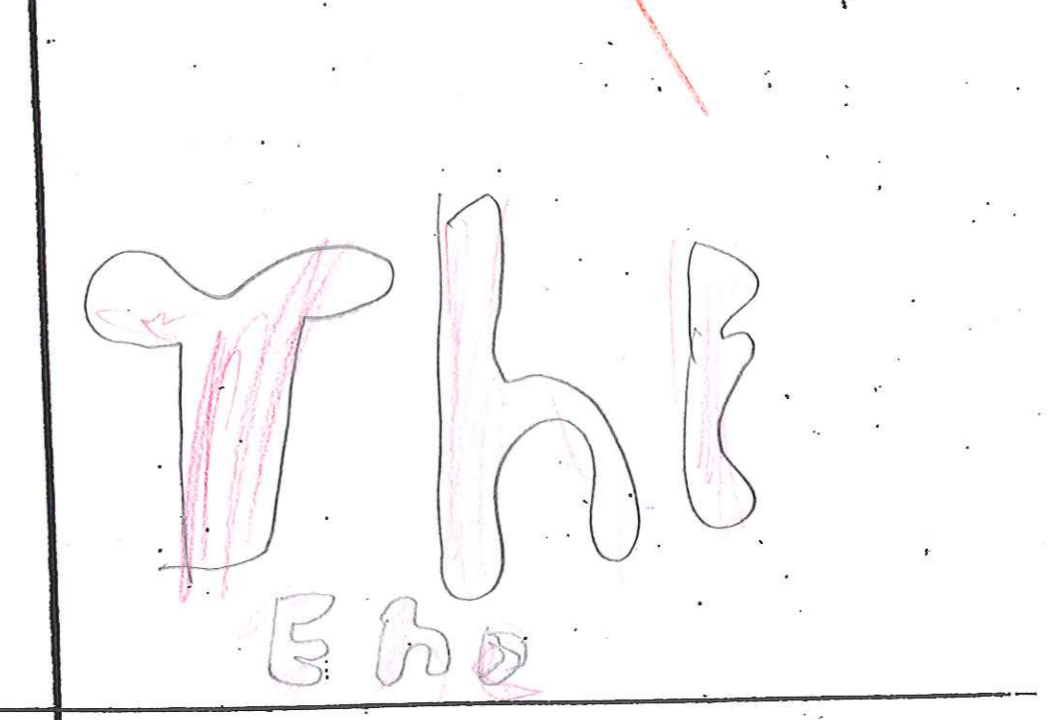

Then an mysterious man appeared and said "if you give me your cow I will give you Magic Beans which will turn into a beanstalk and will reach the sky. if my words don't come true you can have your cow back."

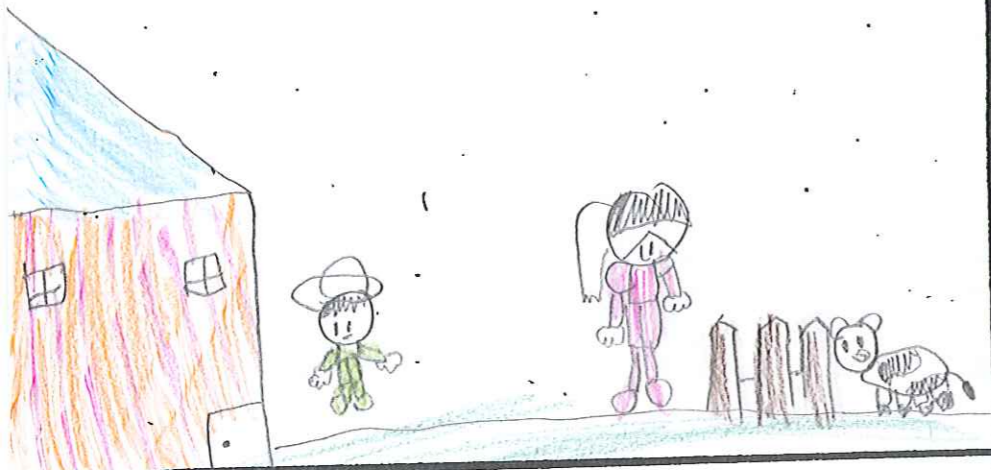

after that Jack returned home and met his Mum Mum "So what price did you get for the cow?" "A Magic bean" "as a bean for our only cow get out of my sight and you don't get any supper!"

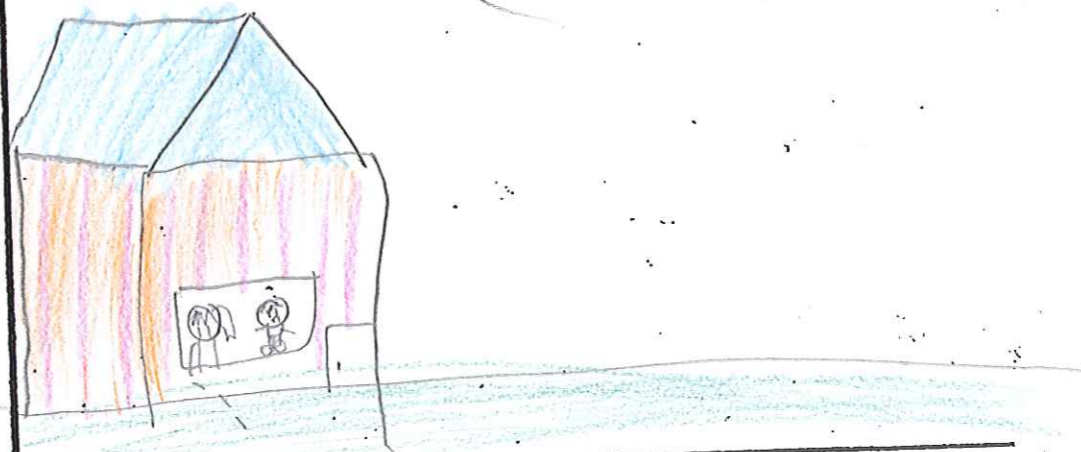

a Mysterious Jack's Mum throw the Bean out the window and so she went to bed over night it grew into a giant bean stalk "the man was right" screamed Jack and climbed the bean stalk to escape. when he reached the top he saw a big dove belong to a Giant.

When Jack saw leaves that the giant had he stole leaves thing when the Giant saw he wasn't happy and chased him. Jack he ran for his life and chored the green bean stalk and the giant died Jack became rich and canned a variety of beans.

Once upon a time there lived a little boy called Jack he lived with his mother. They were very poor and the only thing they had was a very old cow who couldn't make milk.

Jack's mother sent Jack and the cow to the market and told Jack to sell the cow for a good price. When they were half way to the market, a man appeared and said "If you give your cow to me, I will give you magic beans in return." Jack thought about it then agreed.

After a while of walking home Jack soon arrived at his house then told his mum about the trade with the man. When Jack's mother heard about the silly beans she snatched it out of Jack's hand and sent him to bed with no supper.

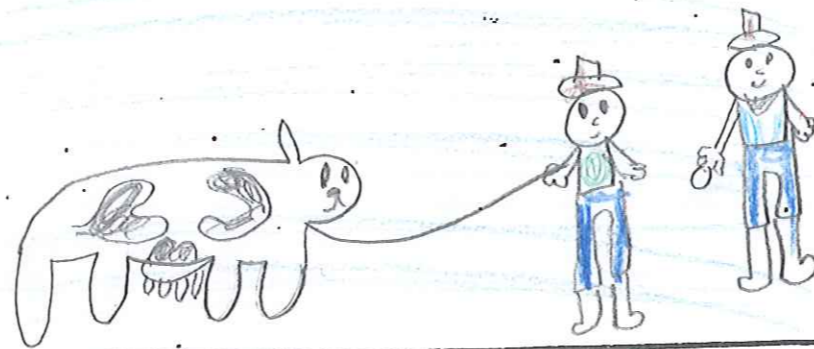

In the next day Jack looked out his window then saw the enormous beanstalk he climbed it and it took a very long time.

At the top of the castle he found a castle he knocked on the door but no one opened but then it creaked open. Inside was very huge then a giant came he brought bags of gold then left the room. So Jack sneakily grabbed the bags and left the castle.

Jack climbed the beanstalk and told his mum about the adventure.

The End!!!

Jack stole a harp some money and a hen the harp said "master master" and the Giant woke up Jack run down the beanstalk and the Giant followed him. Jack cut the beanstalk with and ax. the Gial fell down dead head first into the Ground

Once upon a time there lived a boy called Jack and he lived with his mother in a little cottage, and had a cow that was so old that he couldn't produce any milk.

One day Jack's mother decided to sell the cow. Then he met a mysterious man and said "I will give you my bear if you give me your whole cow." "How can I give you my whole cow if you give me a useless bear?" "It's not any bear it's a magic bear that grows overnight. What did Jack have to lose?"

"Tell me how much did you get." "Well, I have this bear." "That just ridicules you. You spent a whole cow for a useless bear." Jack's mother sent Jack to bed without any dinner. Early next morning Jack saw a plant that shouldn't be there. "Is that my magic bear I better check it out."

So as Jack reached the top of the sky he knocked on the door as loud as he could. Then slowly the door checked open and he went in. Then he picked up the bread. Then Kaboom!! The giant came in.

Fear! Fear! For I can smell the blood of a <sup>English</sup> man. He'll be dead or alive I'll grind his bones to make my bread. Then when he left he stole the money, hen and hump and ran out of the castle.

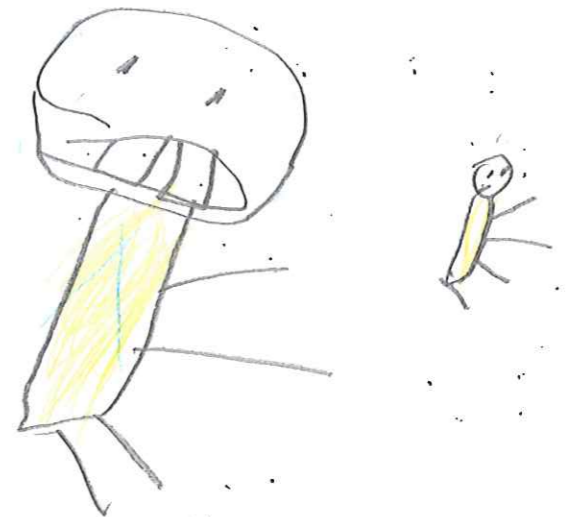

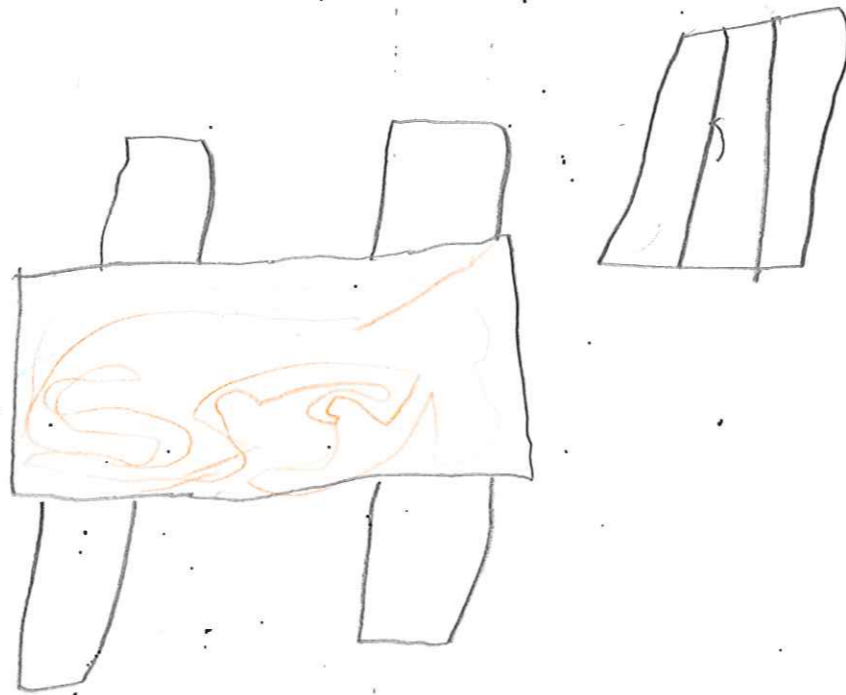

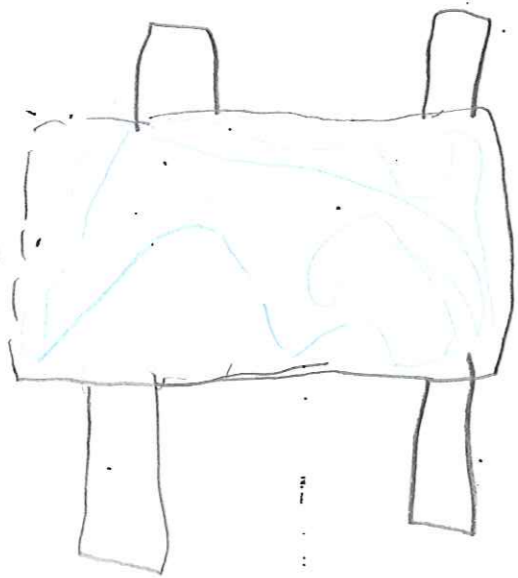

The giant ran after him Jack got down first and cut the tree and the giant fell and died and Jack learned a lesson that he should not steal again and lived happily ever after. The End

Once upon a time, there was a boy named Jack and he and his mum were poor and lived in a cottage.

One day, Jack's mother sent him to sell cow but then a butcher came and gave to ask a bean for a cow. His mum was angry and thumped it out and send him up to his room.

The next morning, Jack saw a big beanstalk and he climbed it for hours and hours and finally he reached the top. He knocked the door and it went open.

He saw jewelry inside but he heard big foot's stamping on the floor he wanted to go to sleep so Jack went to take the money.

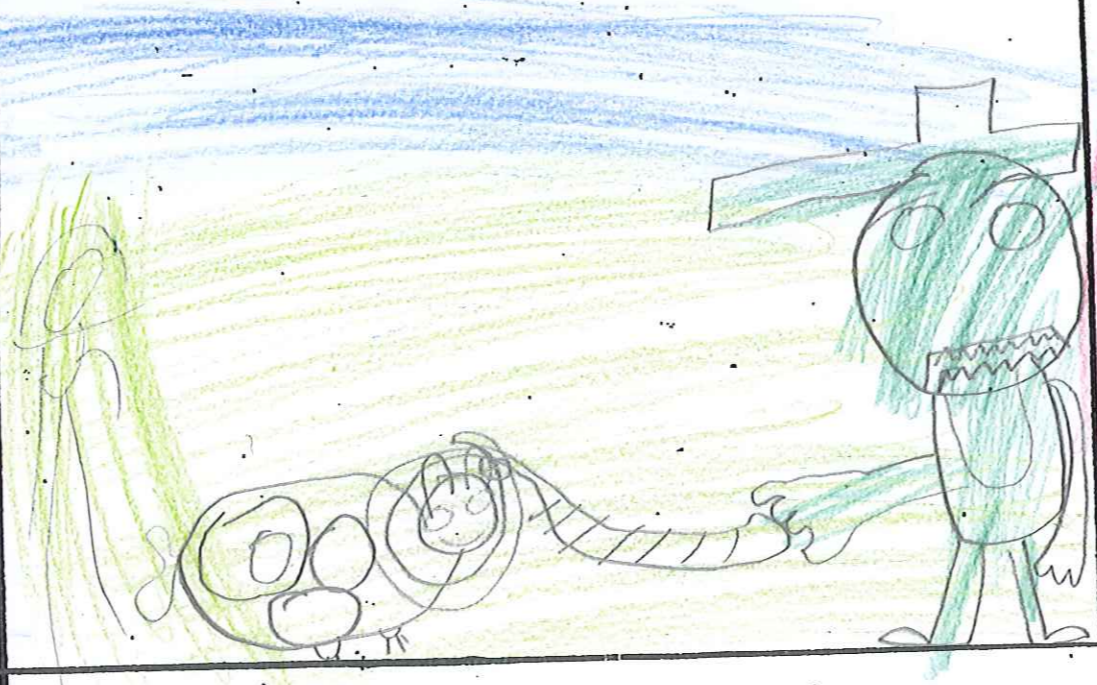

He went again to take a chicken from the aunt but he heard the foot's steps but he still took it.

The Giant saw him and he crashed down when Jack was at the bottom he used a axe to chop the tree down and the Giant was dead.
