Silesian Province

There are lots of wonderful places to visit in Silesian province, but these ones are the most important ones to visit

Guido mine

Guido is a very popular mine located in Zabrze. It was founded in 1855 by earl Guido Henckel von Donnersmarck. Now, you can visit it with a guide. Many parties, events and workshops are also organised there

Spodek

It is a sports hall where many important events like concerts and championships are held and lots of people come to participate in them. It's architecture and other surroundings, for example New Silesian Museum are spectacular

Palm house in Gliwice

This palm house is not like others. There is a small oceanarium inside it. While visiting it, you can see countless plants from all over the world and various climate zones

Silver mine in Tarnowskie Góry

It was the first UNESCO World Heritage Site object of Silesian province's. It is a beautiful place full of traces of the past. There is a part where you travel by boat

Silesian amusement park "Legendia"

It is the oldest amusement park in Poland. It was opened in 1959. It is a great place for whole families. There are 40 attractions and every one of them offer something else.
