Prilep is the fourth largest city in the Republic of Macedonia. It is known as "the city under the Marko's Towers" because of its proximity to the towers of King Marko.

Prilep is a center for high-quality tobacco and cigarettes and the metal processing, electronics, timber, textiles, and food industry. The city also produces a large quantity of Macedonian Bianco Sivec (pure white marble). The majority of the city population is Macedonian. There is also a Romani minority, also Serbs and Turks.

The dialect of Prilep, in the heart of the Pelagonian plain, forms the basis for the standard Macedonian language spoken today.

One of the main squares in Prilep is called "Alexandria", in honor of Alexander the Great.
