

A4 – ART EXCHANGE

➤ Redesign an Art Project

The next activity will consist of converting the student's artistic project into another artistic discipline. For example, a student who is working in graphic design (for example, Photoshop), must convert a design created with paintings, into a digital project, always respecting the original design. And vice versa, the student who is working artistically and manually will turn a digital graphic design into a painted artistic project.

The aim is to have the same project in two different art techniques and working with two different slogans and visions about the same topic.

1. Redesign a 'fish' artwork in your art technique selected.

\ You should not alter any part of the design; it is about copying the original design and doing it with another art technique.*
