What do we offer?

Transport and storage of general merchandise

- The transport of general merchandise is the most common service offered to our customers. This category includes all merchandise that can be transported with a standard means of transport and that are not subject to any special regulations.
- The storage services for general merchandise come in addition to the transport ones. Thus, we want to provide our customers with complete logistics services.

Transport, storage and assembling furniture

- We provide local and international transportation for new furniture, and rapid relocation services, both for companies and institutions as well as for individuals.
- We offer safe storage for your furniture and, in addition, we will help you load/unload it.
- Not everyone knows the assembly/disassembly process, so our mini company provides the service both in the purchase of new furniture and in relocations.

Refrigerated transport for food

- Our company offers its customers transport services, both internally and externally, for any kind of food, in line with the perishable food legislative framework.
- The refrigerator truck can also be rented for organizing events in different locations, to be used as a refrigerator. Depending on your needs, a driver from the mini company can be available.

Passenger transportation

- We take passengers from the locations and times indicated, so they can reach their destination in time, whether it's about a scheduled event, linking with another means of transport, or about the transport of employees at the workplace.
- For the participation at scheduled events, we put a bus at your service, which not only will transport you in time to your destination, but will also wait for you during the event.
