New Marvel movie with Portuguese cast

After concluding the journey of multiple Marvel characters, Marvel now enters the 4th phase of its universe.

On 13th of April, the studio announced on all social media platforms a new movie, titled "Legend of the Seven Cities", featuring an all-Portuguese cast.

Just a week after Marvel's Comic-con conference, the studio announced on its Twitter account the release of a new saga of films, included in the 4th phase of the Marvel universe.

"Legend of the Seven Cities", inspired by the Azorean legend that gave the name to the Lagoon of the Seven Cities, will portray a story of ambition, anguish and love between a father and a daughter. With a few alterations made by the writers of the MCU, the movie is regarded promising and is already being eagerly awaited by Marvel fans.

Joana Ribeiro, who plays the main character, is among the cast members. "It is a privilege to be a part of a universe that has shaped and continues to shape generations. I'm thrilled to be able to offer a small bit of Portugal's beauty to Marvel", the actress took to Instagram to express her feelings.

Cláudia Vieira, Nuno Lopes, and Carloto Cotta are among the other Portuguese actors who will appear in the film. Each will have their respective interviews on April 27th.

"Originally, Stan Lee envisioned a hero inspired by the Carnation Revolution, similar to Captain America, but chose to explore other options, such as unknown myths. That's when he discovered the Legend of the Seven Cities," in Kevin Feige's words. "He'd always desired heroes from all around the world. He used to tell us that Ronaldo would be in the MCU one day (laughs). Unfortunately, he won't be present for the premiere, but I'm sure he'd be proud of what we accomplished."

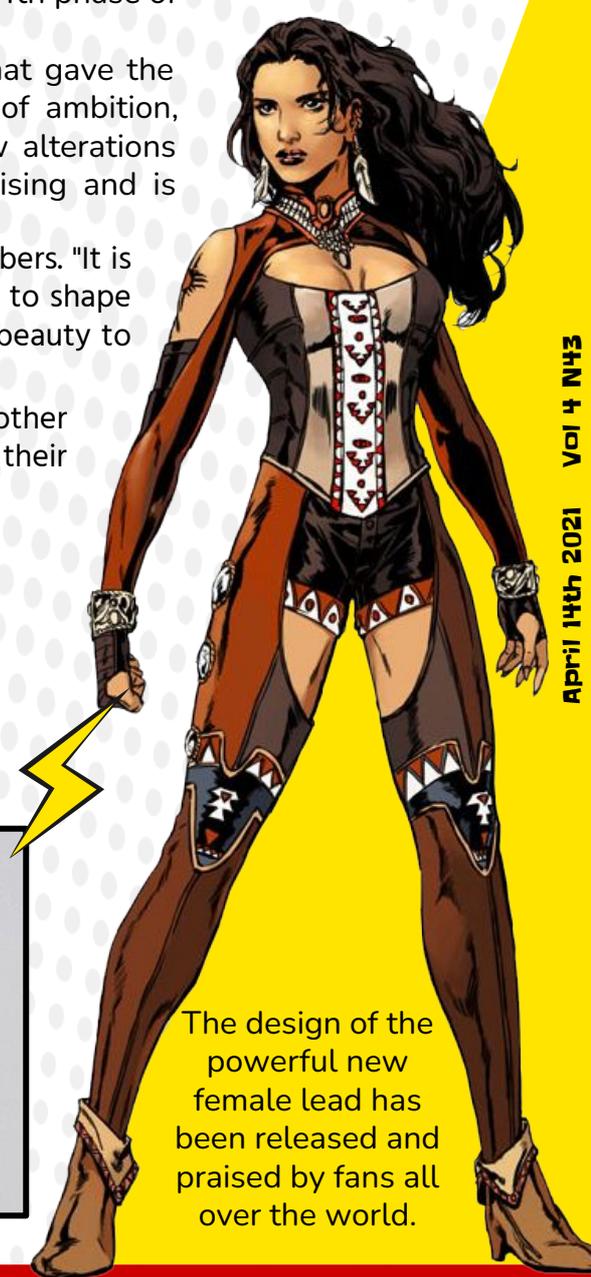

It is now up to Marvel to keep its promises and make the Portuguese people happy and proud.
