

Dear future students,

My name is Georgia and I am a student from a class of 2022. As we are still going through the covid-19 pandemic happiness and sustainability are important goals for today's society. The last two years enjoying myself and travelling have been challenging but there's more hope now allowing us to gradually get back to reality as we all knew it. One of my wishes as well as goals for the future is to allow myself to grow and be the happiest version of myself. Furthermore, it is vital to achieve sustainability in as many sectors as possible leading to a better society with citizens taking action themselves. I really hope that you future students understand the importance of happiness and freedom even though you are not familiar with a pandemic taking place and care for a planet as much as we do.

Best regards

Georgia
