About Lithuanian folk dances

Lithuanian folk dances are mostly danced by women. The men's dance is very small. In mixed group dances, men and women are equal partners. Dancing with a full foot because it makes it easier to dance on the meadow or the ground. There are few hand movements, usually on the hips or holding a long skirt. The pace of the dance is sometimes fast, but never shifting to revelry.

The legacy of Lithuanian traditional choreography consists of dances, circles and games. Most Lithuanian dances consist of two parts: the first is slower and the second is faster.

Dance Granskveras is extremely popular in Lithuania. People dance this time during various gatherings and celebrations. Granskveras is often danced as the final dance of various events.
