Practicing Interpersonal Relationships through a peer to peer workshop

Class 6- Tutor Maria Antonietta Battaglia- 21st December 2019

Our students put in practice what learnt during the previous workshops by devising practical approaches for treating a student who wanted to work effectively as part of the group class

Acting as mentors in a peer to peer relationship lets people find they experience less stressful when they're with others.

They are better able to communicate, resolve any conflicts and build self-confidence feelings
