

Ivana Ignac is a sixth grader and a SEN pupil.(on the right) She is often very shy and quiet during classes but also in school in general. Today we celebrated Bread Day and Ivana's task was to draw and cut a flour product of her choice. Ivana is always a bit insecure and not ambitious enough. Her best friend Senada Oršošč (on the left) helped her do this task. Ivana was happy because she finished the task successfully and because she realised that she can actually do it. Senada was also very happy because she helped her friend complete the task and feel great.
