

HOW DID COVID 19 IMPACT MY LIFE

IVANO ROHTEK

At first the coronavirus didn't really catch my attention. As a 13 years old who lived on the other side of the world from where it had appeared I felt terrible about the lives that were being lost.

The image shows the year '2020' in a bold, black, sans-serif font. The two zeros are replaced by stylized black icons of a coronavirus, each with a circular center and several small, rounded protrusions around the perimeter. The background is white on the left and transitions to a light gray on the right, separated by a diagonal line.

Just like that everything started changing and the fear grew larger. I kept thinking the worst. What if something happened to my parents, or grandma or my friends.

We started online classes. It wasn't the same not being able to be with my friends physically.

Family

- I had a good time with my family. It was nice to have everyone gathering around the table again with only each other to talk to.

Happy
Together

SAVE LIVES

I hope that all this will disappear, and that we will return to normal life.

Until then..we have to take care of each other!
