

Collaborative Stories

→ Characters and compulsory words by: League of Legends (Croatia)

→ Story written by: Milka Chocolates (Portugal)

Love and War

Once upon a time, there was a princess who was very kind and friendly. She was a very proud, creative, curious, short princess. Although she wore braces, she was pretty and elegant and had brown eyes and brown hair. But the princess had a wish that she had never fulfilled: she really wanted to see the sea. Sponge Bob was in love with the princess. He was a yellow, square, nice, lovely guy with big, blue eyes and all he wanted was to make the princess happy. The princess' biggest enemy was a Lego robot – he was brave, polite, strong, big and very scary and he had a mean gang called “The Killers”.

One Friday evening, Sponge Bob and the princess were having a nice chat in a very cool bar. All was going so well, until suddenly they heard the sound of a weapon! Everybody panicked and screamed! There were people running everywhere. Sponge Bob and the princess managed to hide.

The Killers came in...They wanted to terrorize everybody! But Sponge Bob and our princess hid so well, that the bad guys couldn't find them. When they felt safe enough, they ran home, turned on the TV and checked the news. They soon discovered that the leader of the “gang” was the Lego robot.

Three days later...When the princess was watching the news again, as she always did, she saw the Lego robot being arrested! She couldn't believe her eyes! She turned the volume up and listened carefully. It was really true! She immediately called Sponge Bob and told him the good news! Sponge Bob was really happy for the princess. Now it was so much safer to go out. He remembered the wish that his beloved princess had had for such a long time - to “see and sea”, and so to celebrate Peace, he quickly went to a Burger King, grabbed two burgers and called the princess:

-“Hello my darling! Where are you?” - Said Sponge Bob. -“Hello sweetheart! I'm at home.” – said the princess. -“I'm gonna pick you up right now, baby!” –said Sponge Bob. -“Why! Where are we going?” –said the princess. -“It's a surprise!”, he said. Then Sponge Bob picked the princess up and...Two hours later he said:

-“Close your eyes!” And she did. -“Now, open them!” - She did! -“Oh my god!” - She said. -“We are at the beach! Oh thanks a lot, Sponge Bob, you are my hero!”

And Sponge Bob went to get the burgers from the car and they lived happily ever after!