1) Scheduling country quizzes according to the February school holidays

Due to the spring break staggering in the different school calendars, it was unanimously decided to set the first meeting with students from the different schools on 26th January. Two students from each country will simultaneously take part in the nation quizzes created with Kahoot.

Ivana gives some indications on how to upload the quiz on the eTwinning platform and to start the challenge.

2) Quiz correction planning: pie chart for recording answers?

The coordinators of Croatia and Romania do not consider useful to record the right/wrong answers and to transform the result into a pie chart: they will be corrected orally on the spot.

3) Presentation of the project at all partner schools at the same time connected via web

To Franca's question of whether it is possible to present the BBE project at the same time in all the four schools involved, the partner schools communicate that they have already done the dissemination on the website of their school and the Facebook site of their institute.

4) Were participants from disadvantaged groups selected?

To the question if disadvantaged pupils were taken into account in the selection made by the partner schools, the answer is positive: especially with regard to economic disadvantage. Rosanna and Franca point out that they have involved the disability group in the creation of works that will be published.

5) Updating the timetable

Franca points out that she has translated and published the original timetable, which will need to be updated depending on the progress of Covid and the restrictions that will result.
