Dear Diary,

2 months ago I arrived in New York. ^{I miss} My family a lot. New-York is impressive and beautiful. You know, I love New-York but my city was good too. I don't regret coming to New-York. My job is beautiful. The patients are very nice and other doctors too. And I learn a lot of things but I'm not very happy because my family and my friends aren't there. It's very difficult for me, I can speak to them just by phone. I would like them to be all with me but it is not possible because my family and my friends can not pay their plane tickets. I'm staying just for the children that I can save. I succeed in making them come. I would like to
