TASK 3

- shock, confusion, surprise, happiness, enthusiasm

When your friends are a little weird, you feel confused since they are not like that. Your birthday is coming, a friend tells you and we are going out, your friend gives you a gift, you are happy when you receive it, he gives you your favorite gift, you are in shock and at the same time you are enthusiastic because it is what you wanted. You are at a cafe and there is a surprise party for you.

- sadness, stress, frustration, solitude.

The frustration and stress he feels knowing that you can't do things and the sadness that nobody supports you when you need to hide in a place to cry because you don't want to show it but still nobody realizes, despite being surrounded by people you still feel empty that there is no one who supports you makes you feel like shit.
