People are deeper than labels

Remember to have own brain and never pay heed to opinions other's people.

Try to live according own heart.

This is rule of happiness

Be yourself, don't let the superficial opinions of people who do not know you could make you someone else

Never give up, if you fall, get up.

Don't think about others people, focus on yourself

If others think you are weird, don't worry.

Be proud of it, because it means that you are unique

Change the world for the better.

Do not give up if you encounter problems,
you will always have someone who will support you

Don't pay attention when someone misjudges you.

Not care a hang about it only move forward for your goal.

Remember that you create your own world.

Divisions and groups?

Man, do not be stupid.

Each of us has something, we are unique, we shine in our own decorations. No matter where you are from or what you believe in,
you're worth as much as everyone else.

Do not look at others, you know your worth.

People like everyone are different.

No one is holy either, I too,

but remember man, everyone is

Be yourself, no matter what others think about you, don't change for someone because then you won't be happy

One of the most important things you can accomplish is just being yourself

Be happy all the time
because no one can't break your smile

Your time is limited, so don't waste it on being someone you are not.

It's the possibility of having a dream comes true makes life interesting.

Even you're fat, you still have beautiful heart.
It is not important to look great,
but it is important to be beautiful inside.

I remember well the ideal mine, dreams I lived like a King

Believe in yourself
because no one is better than you.
