Defensive walls

In the first half of the 14th century the city was surrounded by a water-filled moat and defensive walls, which were 4476 meters long. With time, the moats disappeared and the city gates were destroyed along with most of the walls.

Today they're only the remains of the medieval fortifications from the beginning of the 14th century, their total length is 130 meters.

Granary

The granary is located on the left bank of the river Warta, nearby the city bridge.

built in 1763
