I personally think netiquette is very important. The use of good manners on internet is significant, because sometimes people misunderstand what you say and that leads to conflicts online. Following netiquette will help you to maintain and establish positive online relationships as well as develop a positive online reputation.

I think that netiquette is very important because communication online is non-verbal. Most often online communication consists of reading something someone else has typed. This type of communication does not allow each person to see facial expressions, body language, or hear intonation. So if you follow netiquette, others will perceive you as a good person and will value your opinions. I agree with netiquette.

In my opinion, netiquette is very important, because we need to be respectful towards our partners. When working in a project on the internet good manners are required for a better product. Also sometimes people can understand your message in another way, for example, typing in capitals is considered to be shouting, while all lowercase can be difficult to read.

I think Netiquette has a big role in online security. This rules help us understand what we should and shouldn't do. Especially, because, here, we are working in teams and it's an international project, it's very important that we respect each other. So, it's necessary that we respect the Netiquette for a better interaction with each other and a better common experience in this project.

I think that netiquette is a very important part of this project! While participating in this eTwinning project, we have the opportunity to collaborate with students from other countries , and unfortunately, we don't have the possibility to talk directly. So, for being correctly understood and have a respectful collaboration, we should follow the Netiquette. Netiquette is not only about following some rules , it is about respecting others and self-respect! I fully accept it!

In my opinion, Netiquette is a very important concept that people need to respect on the internet. Netiquette is the attitude you show to everyone in this project, that's why we need to respect it. Netiquette is very important because we need to have a beautiful and positive collaboration, we need to behave properly. Following Netiquette represents yourself correctly. Netiquette teaches us to be respectful and good to everyone online.
