5. Meeting people having different habits can be interesting... Name one thing you experienced as being different/interesting.

Most common or significant answers

- In Germany they can choose their own courses more freely.
- It was really interesting to see how much freedom the German students get to work on their projects.
- They often go by public transport or on foot. The trams driving around the city. Awesome transportation system
- The Germans have a second breakfast / They have lunch very early / The eating timetables
- The Mensa service!

6. Have you encountered language difficulties? If so, how did you manage to make yourself clear?

Most common or significant answers

- My teachers helped me
- Google Translate!
- Sometimes I didn't know how to say some things, but the most of the time was easy.
- Not really, all the participants were able to communicate in English.
- Sometimes you don't know a word, but overall, I had no problems.
- I tried to show it. Or I explained it in other words.
- I didn't have much problems because my host spoke good English.
- It was all fine

7. Think of yourself being 20 years older... ;-) What is it you will remember from this Erasmus+ meeting?

Most common or significant answers

- The nice people in Kassel
- I will remember how happy I was for the whole week
- Friendships made and food eaten
- The hospitality of my host-family was amazing.
- Leah was like a sister for me.
- It gave me a warm feeling when I could make Dimitri (the Greek boy) laughing and when I got so many hugs from Agnetha (the Greek girl).
- The walk to Herkules and the snow fight was really fun.
- Kassel was large and beautiful. Leah's mom told so many other things we didn't see there yet. I am lucky they invited me to come back again ;)

- The fact that teachers from different European countries and cultures all have the same priorities. All the teachers were above all concerned with the well-being of their students and the students of the other countries.
- That it was a really interesting project and that it was very nice to meet people from another country and another language.
- I took a lot of pictures so that will help me remember the fantastic activities. The visit to Hercules, the new friends, the workout and the party are my top activities!
- Absolutely the party and the snow/torch, the hosts...
- The wonderful experience and the beautiful friendships.
- The lovely atmosphere
