

Youth parliament of Järvenpää

Järvenpää is in southern Finland. It is located 40km north from the capital, Helsinki.

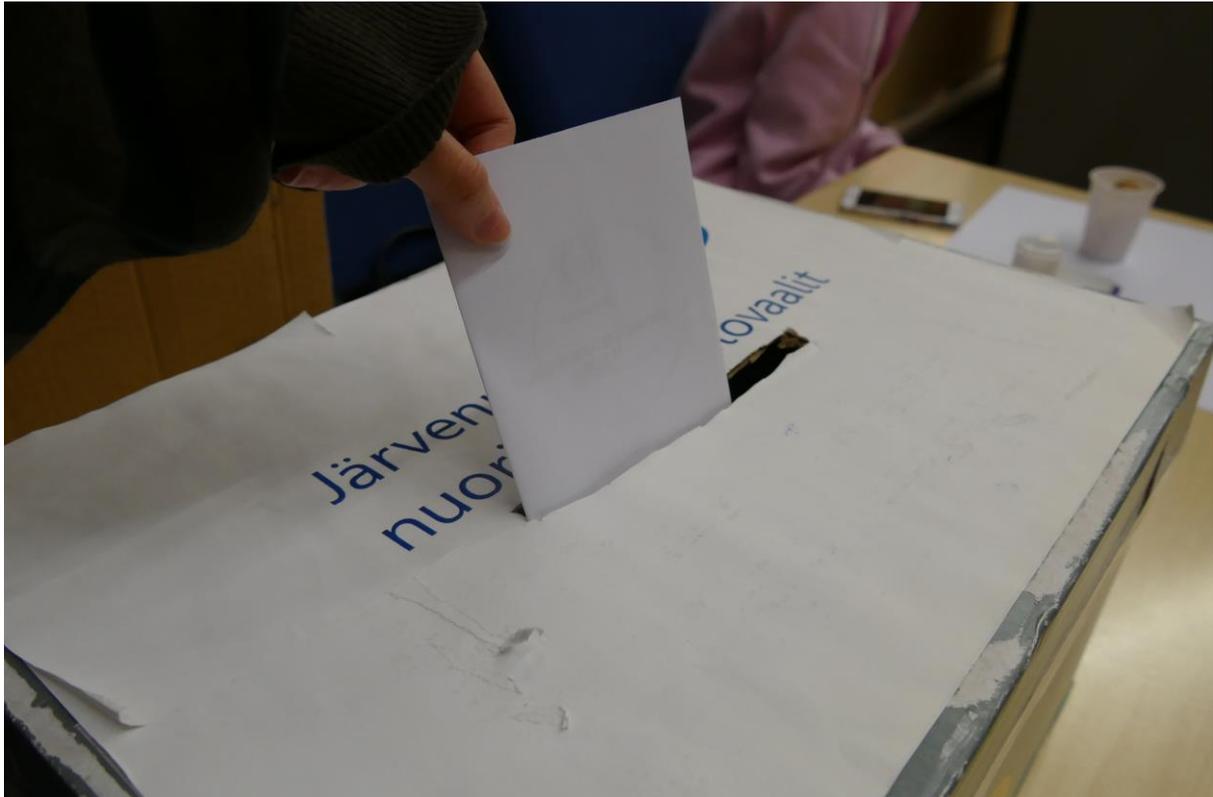

Every two years we hold a Youth parliament election, in which 13-17-year-olds get to vote who gets elected to be a part of the Järvenpää Youth parliament. Those who get elected, will be able to decide on matters related to Järvenpää teenagers.

Members of the Youth parliament will be a part of it for two years, but you can run for the parliament again until you're 18.

In every junior high school, high school and congregation college the students have a right for one vote. The voting happens on only one day. Each class goes to vote on their own turn. You don't have to vote, but it is recommended. 15 candidates with the most votes get to be a part of the parliament. Ten backup members are also chosen.

This is a voting booth at Koivusaari's school.

This is the box where you put your vote. In Finnish law no one else can touch your vote, except you. They stamp your vote to show it's an official vote.

ÄÄNESTÄ - OSALLISTU - VAIKUTA!

This is the poster for the candidates. There's no number one since the number is seen as better and more qualified than the others, so it's biased. There are 26 candidates this year. This time, there are six candidates from Koivusaari's school.

Here are few examples of posters made by the candidates to pursue voters to vote for them. A lot of the posters have a slogan.

The youth is encouraged to join the parliament, to better the environment for the young residents of Järvenpää. Working with different people betters your social, communication, teamworking, and leadership skills, and you can also meet new friends. Maybe even if you're considering a political career, this might be a good way to get experience.
