CLEANING

In the Czech families cleaned most all the members. Work in the household is divided according to the age, according to who what you can handle.

ACCOMMODATION

A lot of Czech families live with their grandparents. It is typical for us to live in large families. When a family lives in a house it's the first floor where grandparents live, separated from the rest of relatives who live upstairs. A long time ago in villages it was typical to live as a big family – with grandparents. And now of course it depends on how the family is big and how much money they have.
