

Hi,

My name is Ondra Svoboda and I am 17 years old. I live in Czechia in Dobříš. I am actually studying in local gymnázium (obviously) which is called Gymnázium Karla Čapka. My family have 6 members – my father, mother, me, brother Šimon (I think that he is 14 but I am not sure xD ), my sister Lucinka (she is probably 9) and my little brother Dominik (he is definitely 6).

I like computer games, nature, airsoft (it's like paintball but with smaller, plastic balls and realistic looking weapons).

Also I like action movies, good food, sleeping and pretty women (and now I don't mean the film – although it's nice).

Well now something about me more in depth. I think that I have very strange nature

– first minute I am calm and second I am explosive as TNT.

I love to speak with people and I hate being alone. What I really hate, is when somebody is telling me what should I do and that's probably the reason why I despise authorities. Still, I think that my probably most distinctive feature is that I make fun of everything and everybody all the time and I don't mind using whole range of fun (from innocent to cruel).

Well a little funny thing on the end: translation for Svoboda (my last name) is freedom, which makes a lot of funny moments especially when we are learning about some school of thought or revolution and teacher says that they were fighting for freedom, and because at that point I am mostly sleeping I wake up when I hear my name and I am like: What? I am supposed to say something or what? I am sorry I wasn't paying attention... Oh, you didn't mention me... oh... ehm... well... sorry for disturbing...
