Hello! I'm Manal, I'm 15 years old and I live in Massa Lombarda near Ravenna.

I come from Morocco, but I was born in Italy and I've always lived here with my family.

My family is composed by my mother, my father, my 17-years-old sister, a 11-years-old brother and a older brother that no longer live with us because of his job in France.

I don't practise any sport and my favorite hobby is to listen to music.

My favorite boyband is One Direction. They are a British-Irish boyband which I have been interested in since 2012.

They are probably the most important people in my life and I love so much...I hope one day to meet them and to go to a concert because I've been waiting so long. Thanks to them I've known wonderful people (they're also 1D's fans) on Internet which now are my best friends...we like the same things so we get along well. My favorite song is Moments by them.

I like also other singers such as Ed Sheeran, Little Mix and others.

I love travelling in fact I would visit America, Australia and Asia.

I would like to become a doctor, but I don't want to live in Italy...maybe America.

All the love.x Manal
