

King William William the first

When the French war was over he go's back to the Netherlands his Vader was the leader of the Netherlands first he died so when he was back he become the first king of the Netherlands. He makes the Netherlands and Belgium together but the Belgium people din't like it so they fight King William the first send a army to fight them but it din't work so Belgium become a one land and King William the first give the king chip to his son King William the second and in the law stand that Belgium never can be a part of the Netherlands

